Now, that's easy for stylized pictures that have a clear background but what about something that's a lot harder to see?

Here we start with a large picture with a lot of background that when reduced in size you can't see.

So, we cut a section of the picture and we now have this and we can actually see what he's doing.

The next step is then taking the final photo and saving or exporting the image as a web optimised photo. We won't take you through those steps today and the most important thing about this fact sheet is Number 1: Don't stress about all this...

We've just provided this information for those who are interested and if you need help - Just call us! We can assist you in photo selection and even provide a stock picture to suit your event as well as arrange web optimisation.
